

RIVERSIDE PARK DRIVE ATTRACTIVE

4,000-Foot Roadway Through
Big Tract to Be Graveled.

With the completion of the 1924 paving project and correlated programs of sanitary sewer, storm sewer, water and gas mains, attention of the city is now focused on the work that has been and is being accomplished by the department of public works in Riverside park, the city's big tract of land along the west bank of Rock river north of the city.

The past few months have seen the construction of a beautiful three-quarter mile drive through one of the most picturesque sections of the park, the building of storm sewers, land clearing, general cleanup of grounds and buildings, construction of new fences and a start on greens and lawns for a permanent municipal golf course. The park development is proceeding along the extensive set of plans as drawn up for the city this year by Charles Lawrence, landscape architect of Davenport, Ia.

New Drive Attractive
The new drive into the park begins just south of the old entrance at the end of the street car line, proceeds northward, and is being extended toward the dance pavilion along the river, then swings north through a ravine toward the end of the house and then west over the Janesville-Evanston railroad to the city line, a 4,000-foot highway. It is approximately 33 feet wide, and 90 per cent of it represents the opening up of hitherto impassable woods and pastures.

All that remains to finish the drive is to surface it with gravel and construct fences along the south section of it. It will be opened to travel as soon as this finishing is installed, although the graveling will not be done until this winter or early next spring. The fences are now being put up and should be completed by Monday. Until they are in place it is necessary to block the drive at the viaduct in order to keep cattle on adjoining property from straying.

Build New Greens

Street Engineer Joseph Lustig is employing two crews of men in the development of the park. One crew has started work on five or six new greens necessary for the layout of the permanent nine-hole golf course. Three new full-size greens will have to be cleared and work will be carried on so as not to interfere with playing over the temporary six-hole course until the final layout is ready. The course has grown in popularity since its modest beginning and large numbers are enjoying the use of it each day.

"TRAXLER'S LAKE" DEALT BODY BLOW BY DRAINAGE CREW

Department of public works employees have rung down the curtain on "Traxler's Lake," that unattractive body of water which has formed unannouncedly nearly every spring for the last 10 years at the corner of North Academy and Wall streets, and which was unofficially christened last spring in honor of the city manager. Through the construction of two storm sewer intakes at that point by the city the past few weeks it is believed the trouble has been forever eliminated. The "lake" has been caused in the past by insufficient drainage at the point, it was declared.

Street Engineer Joseph Lustig and his men have started work on a one-block section of storm sewer near the Chevrolet plant, to drain the intersection of South Jackson and State streets, a bad spot for many years during rainy periods. This new main will carry into a sanitary sewer running from the plant of the Lower City Canning company.

Street maintenance workers are preparing to start work on the gravel that section of West State street running from the school for the blind west, to the city limit. Gravel will be put on by Frank Eiler from a pit on his property which he used for the work. The county has graded this road as far as the city limits.

APPLES ABUNDANT ON LOCAL MARKET

Many Varieties Available, Most of Them Home Grown.

At least 10 varieties of apples, the large share of which are home grown, are on the market this week and many of them are making a special feature of the exhibit. Most of them are selling at four pounds for a quarter, among them Pippin, Grimes Golden, Alexander, Wealthy, and Wolf River. Honey Jonathans, of which several cars have been received by wholesalers here, are three or four pounds for 5 cents; Idaho extra fancy apples, two pounds for a quarter; Queen and Pound Sweet, three pounds for 25 cents; and crab, 5 cents; Greening, $1.75 a bushel.

Concord grapes are somewhat more reasonable in price this week, large baskets selling down to 57 cents, and the smaller baskets at 37 cents. Blue and white grapes are slightly cheaper. On Saturday, special prices of 75 cents on large baskets and 37 cents on small ones will be made by some stores. Tokays remain at 12 1/2 to 15 cents pound.

Banana Prices Up
The expected rise in banana prices will come on Saturday, merchants state, when prices will be two pounds for a quarter instead of 10 cents per pound. Some merchants will be able to keep at steady prices on account of the supplies which they have contracted ahead.

Cranberries at 15 cents pound are becoming more popular with the coming of cooler weather, but remain at the same price as the first of the season. Citrus fruits, oranges, lemons and grapefruit, remain at steady prices. Grapfruit pears are 50 cents dozen. The last of the Michigan peaches, seen only in small baskets, are 20 cents. Other fruits include Idaho pears, at 25 cents basket; quinces at 10 cents pound, and a few cantaloupes at 30 to 40 cents.

Yeastable Veggies
Cauliflower is 10 cents per pound this week, or 15 to 10 cents per head. Celery is 10 cents a bunch; carrots, 10 cents bunch; peppers, 2 cents to 2 for 5; celery, cabbage, 12 to 15 cents pound; beets, 10 cents bunch; cabbage, 12 to 2 cents pound; cucumbers, 10 cents bunch; radishes, 4 cents bunch; parsnips, 7 cents; spinach, 10 cents pound; tomatoes, 75 to 8 cents pound; wax beans, 15 cents pound; pumpkins, 10 to 25 cents each, according to size; squash, 10 to 20 cents each, except the small table Queens, which are 5 cents; rutabagas, 35 to 4 cents.

"White House" Phone Call Arranged for Aid to Voters.

"Operator, call White House, please." This request over a telephone by a Janesville resident won't bring the caller in contact with that majestic building in Washington which houses the president of the United States.

It will, however, result in a connection with headquarters of the Coolidge and Dawes club, established at 208 West Milwaukee street, for the purpose of assisting Mr. and Mrs. Clifton in an intelligent selection of the occupation of the White House after Oct. 23, a week before the general election, Nov. 4. The polls in each of the 10 precincts will be open all day to enroll those who will vote in the presidential election.

Following is a list of the registration places for Oct. 23.

First ward—In north-east room of city garage, directly back of city hall, entrance on Wall street.

Second precinct—In Stephenson's garage, directly back of 485 North Washington street, entrance on Mineral point avenue.

Third precinct—In building owned by city on North Main street, at foot of Prospect avenue.

Fourth precinct—In basement of C. B. church, corner Prospect and Milton avenues.

Special Communication to Organizations in Janesville

Every club, fraternal organization, union, lodge, church society and every other group is earnestly invited to make a contribution to the $275,000 Building Fund of the Janesville Y. M. C. A. We have a PLAN that makes it possible for your organization to share in this very worthy movement and perpetuate that gift in a most practical manner.

There are to be approximately 75 Dormitory Rooms in Janesville's new home of the Y. M. C. A. to care for young men who are away from home. We want to have these rooms provided by various societies on the basis of $1,000 per room, and the DONOR WILL HAVE THE PRIVILEGE OF NAMING THE ROOM BY PLACING THE NAME ON A DOOR-PLATE.

The organization whose name appears on the door may regard the young man who occupies that room as its perpetual guest and pleasant occasions may be planned—flowers and a card on his birthday, an invitation out on Thanksgiving dinner, invitations to homes and social events, etc.—that will mean much to a young fellow away from home. No one can estimate the value of such subscription and service.

This feature is limited to the 75 Dormitory Rooms and open ONLY to organized groups, or as Memorial Rooms. Selection of rooms for name plates will be made in the order that the pledges are filed. Remember NO CASH is asked for—the pledges are payable in TEN INSTALLMENTS, six months apart, covering five years. On this basis almost every club can take one or more rooms.

If your organization does not meet before October 28th, when the campaign closes, will you take responsibility to get action in some way so that your club will not be left out of this splendid effort? Report your name and pledge direct to the Campaign Headquarters by Phone, No. 275,000, or hand it in to one of the campaign workers. Who will be among the first?

SIMON SMITH IN HOSPITAL NEAR DEATH

Simon Smith, 86, dean of the Rock county board of supervisors and for four years chairman of the finance committee, will probably never attend another county board session, as he lies in a critical condition in the Beloit city hospital. Mr. Smith has been confined there for several weeks and reports Friday indicated that his death was likely to come any time. His advanced years make a rally improbable.

Hemmens Returns from Eastern Trip

A. L. Hemmens, local agent of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, has just returned from Buffalo and other western cities, after attending the annual convention of railroad agents at Buffalo. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hemmens.

Stops were made of a day at Detroit, two days at Buffalo, a day at Niagara Falls, a day at Albany, and two days in New York City. The trip from Albany to New York was made on the Hudson river day line steamer, "Hendrick Hudson," down the Hudson river. While in New York, the agents were guests at dinner on the Hudson line steamship, "Mauretania." There were 650 agents at the convention. A group of 250 took the trip to New York, the balance going to Montreal and other Canadian points. Next year's convention will be held in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Adjourned One Week—Arraigned in municipal court Friday on an intoxication charge, Frank Greney pleaded not guilty and his case was adjourned a week.

The Wrath to Come

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1924, by Little Brown & Co.

"I will tell you what Lord Yeovil has done," he went on. "He has had the courage of a great man. He has braved possible opposition—and opposition to the Chairman of the Pict of Nations can only mean one thing, where the person of that rank of that functionary is concerned. He has, I say, braved opposition, and he has pointed out to all of us the weak link in the chain of our hope for eternal peace. I mean the standstill out of your great country, sir," he added, bowing to Slattery. "The United States of America, from the Pict of Nations. Some of us have felt that by her repeated refusals she did not deserve any further invitations. Some of us have felt that she had not the right to be invited to the Pict of Nations. Lord Yeovil swept aside all these pettinesses. He spoke to us as only a great man speaks. He saw the truth, and he made us see it. We realized that invitation. I ask you to drink the health of Lord Yeovil with me. There is no other statesman living today who could have done this great thing. I am a proud man that he sits at this table. I only ask you to forgive the unreasonable impulse which has prompted me to make this public apology. For, behind my words, you will guess the truth—that I was one of those who hesitated. That is, I am a man convinced. I do homage to a greater brain. My dear friends—I don't say 'Ladies and Gentlemen'—let us drink the health of Lord Yeovil." "Amazing!" Grant murmured, with genuine admiration in his tone. Lord Yeovil, whose face was as still as the face of a statue, raised his glass. He took the only means possible of showing his opinion of his host's action. He remained seated. "My friends," he said, "any reply of mine to our host's kindly words

STORING VITAMINS

The average healthy person stores up within the body several days' supply of essential vitamins. This explains why a well-nourished person of any age is less susceptible to germ-infection than those who are malnourished.

Scott's Emulsion

is a safety-factor that helps keep you well-nourished. A very little used daily to complement the regular diet, activates with essential vitamins and helps build resistance.

Store up a reserve of essential vitamins—take Scott's regularly. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Old aches

No matter how obstinate, long-standing and acute, Sloan's gives quick positive relief. Put it on gently. At once you feel a glowing warmth as fresh, penetrating balm soothes the inflamed spot. Then—in no time—relieve from pain. All druggists—35 cents.

Will You Live To Be Eighty?

If You Are Getting Along in Years, God Liver Oil Will Give You Strength and Vitality To Go Further.

At no time of life is God Liver Oil more helpful than in old age. A full of vitamins—it is a body builder—a strength primer—unparalleled.

But of course you know that now, when you don't have to take the horrible "no taste" oil smelling oil itself.

Science has made that unnecessary. For now you can get McCoy's God Liver Oil Tablets at any drug store—60 tablets for 50 cents and as they are sugar coated they are as easy to take as candy.

Old people who want to overcome their feebleness and gain vigor and more power of endurance are advised to grow younger in spirit with McCoy's God Liver Oil Tablets for 30 days.

Then if you are not satisfied—just ask your druggist to return your money—for McCoy's God Liver Oil Tablets—original and genuine—are guaranteed. Mail orders filled by McCoy's Laboratories, 322 Fifth Ave., New York City, Mexico City, P. O. Box 1000, San Francisco, Cal., and all branches of the McCoy's God Liver Oil Tablets for 30 days.

WELL FED SHOULDERS

Thin shoulders have a starved look which only adds to the ugliness. Even the thinnest woman can have nice shoulders and a nice chest if she will work for them.

The first thing to learn how to stand. Most undernourished women stoop; no doubt the physical ailment which keeps them thus deprives them of the energy to stand erect. Keep the chest up and the shoulders back; rather keep the abdomen in, even if you have to hold it in with a corset, and keep the chest high. If you cultivate this posture the shoulders will go back of themselves and without giving you the general appearance of a wooden soldier at attention.

Learn deep breathing. The thin woman rarely gets enough vital, fresh breathing air into her lungs. When she does, her lungs expand, her chest develops, deep grooves under the skin, and before she knows it a lot of hollows have disappeared and a lot of bones are inviolable. Stand by your open bedroom window in the morning and breathe in deeply in times. It will wake you up and send your blood racing. Breathe deeply, holding your breath in a little each time, as you walk or work out-of-doors; this takes no extra time.

Lastly, massage the shoulders. Use the Blue Cold Cream given in the column yesterday. Or, if you want a special cream, and especially fatty, use one, take that same formula and substitute cocoa butter for the white wax. This is easier to massage with than plain warmed coconut butter, though the butter by itself is a little more nourishing.

Wash the skin first, or hold wet hot towels over it to open the pores; the skin will take up more cream that way. Massage gently, but firmly, too, for the stimulation of the massage is as good as the cream. Do this every day.

Hint II.—The oil you mention will do for massaging a dry scalp before shampooing, but it is not a good oil treatment the night before, leaving the oil on the scalp until the time for shampooing the next morning.

When there is dandruff, use the oil as lotion on the scalp and on the hair. In ordinary case of a dry scalp, olive oil makes a good treatment, but a castor oil treatment, made out of any of its by-products, such as

BADGER SCIENCE HELPS MONTANA

B. H. Hibbard, Agricultural Economist, Help State Plan Land Tenure.

Madison—Badger science once more has come to the rescue of American agriculture. B. H. Hibbard, head of the department of agricultural economics, University of Wisconsin, has just returned from the west. Hibbard spent 19 days in Montana and the Dakotas on a special "land" project. As chief member of the Institute for Research in Land Economics and Public Utilities, Hibbard studied the situation as to land tenure in the western states. "Montana agriculture has undergone great changes in the last few years," the economist said on his return. "The state is large and it is a land of extremes in crop yields. Yet, during the war the change from the former grazing system to a system of cultivating the land and seeding it to grain has come about on a large scale—often regardless of the powers of the soil."

He hopes of the institute in making this beginning. Hibbard states, "I have devised an agricultural credit and tenure system which will fit the ups and downs of the climate in that section of the country. The soil and a federal government have consented to cooperate with the research institute in pursuing the project. "The investigation purpose to find a satisfactory adjustment of farming methods to the region concerned. According to Hibbard, such adjustment has hardly begun. "To let the natural conditions take care of themselves," he concluded, "will be too long a process. Good plans and systems are being followed, but not generally. It is hoped that, with help, better practices may become more prevalent. The institute, a private, scientific body, proposes to hasten this process of readjustment."

Richard T. Ely, head of the department of political economy at the state university, is director of the Institute for Research in Land Economics and Public Utilities. "The institute," he said, "will turn their steps toward the goal of learning. The Wisconsin College of Agriculture will open its doors on Nov. 17 to the 20th annual Short Course. This course, which will run for three terms and continue until the middle of March, is under the direction of T. L. Dewell, state leader of boys and girls clubs. "The Badger farm school was the first in the country to establish a winter course for the farm boys who felt unable to spend as much as nine months for higher education per year. In 1886, former Dean W. A. Henry organized the teaching forces of the agricultural department of the state university and offered the first "practical" farm course ever taught in an American agricultural college. "Inquiries concerning the Short Course indicate that much interest is being evidenced throughout the state in higher education, according to Dewell."

TOY BANKS BACK
Berlin—Savings banks for children in the form of toys have come as a reminder that the days of the inflation have passed. Children are encouraged to save by their parents, for the municipal saving institutions pay interest ranging from 8 to 15 percent.

Hundreds Enter Farm Bureau Essay Contest

Amazingly long lists of names of farm boys and girls are coming in to the American Farm Bureau federation office from county farm bureaus. On these lists are the names of boys and girls who are writing essays in the national farm bureau essay contest. The lists are averaging around 70 names to the county.

Some counties are still entering the contest. Five were registered this week. "Thousands of requests from individual farm boys and girls for material concerning the farm bureau office have been received by the national office, and the state organizations report similar flood of requests."

In New York, where 10 counties are competing in the contest, much enthusiasm is being aroused, according to E. V. Underwood, secretary of the state federation. In commenting on the contest, Mr. Underwood said: "We are conducting the contest primarily to interest the growing boys and girls on the farms in the possibilities which lie in the farm bureau organization as a means of farmer self-help. The boys and girls will find that it belongs to the farm bureau because it serves him and gives him an opportunity to help himself. They will find that he applies to the farm bureau in any perfectly correct manner, farm management or in any unusual situation which arises. They will probably realize more fully how the union of a million of other farmers has given him a voice in legislation, taxation and the marketing of his products. He never had before the advent of the farm bureau."

Counties in 26 states are now being entered in the contest. A new booklet, which is being printed by the American Farm Bureau federation this week, will be mailed to each contestant as rapidly as the county lists are received.

SHORT COURSE STARTS NOV. 17

Madison—Wisconsin's future farmers soon will turn their steps toward the goal of learning. The Wisconsin College of Agriculture will open its doors on Nov. 17 to the 20th annual Short Course. This course, which will run for three terms and continue until the middle of March, is under the direction of T. L. Dewell, state leader of boys and girls clubs. "The Badger farm school was the first in the country to establish a winter course for the farm boys who felt unable to spend as much as nine months for higher education per year. REDUCING LOSSES IN FIELD INTERESTS STATE PEA PACKERS

Madison—Interest at the 20th annual Wisconsin Pea Packers association meeting here, Oct. 23 to 26, will center on the program made to reduce losses in the field and in improving quality and yield of peas. Extensive investigations carried on this season by the bacteriologists of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture have shown great improvement in field and quality as a result of inoculation of new seed. Progress, too, has been made in finding ways of controlling the root rot problem. Control of the pea aphid by the new machine called an aphicide has developed interesting side issues such as better yields of peas, instead of the damage feared. Other uses for the machine have also been developed. Methods of grading peas for production are also on the program. Wisconsin growers of all kinds of products are members of this association. Dr. F. T. Clark of Waupun is president. This is the first meeting of the association held outside of Milwaukee. One of the big of the counties in the state have cameramen.

COLD weather coming! If you have been using Wadham's "Low", (or any other gas) you should switch to Wadham's "High". Your motor will start much easier. Saves your battery. Best in all seasons, but a necessity in cold weather.

What is a Load of Coal Worth?

THE basketful customer doesn't part with so much money at a time, but it's one of the travesties — or tragedies — of trade that her cost per ton is 'way higher than the heavy buyer's.

And identically the same economic law sets to work when the car-owner chooses motor fuel on the price charged per filling instead of on the sounder basis of final cost.

Unsatisfactory running, frequent repairs, heavy depreciation and early scrapping bear testimony that kerosene is not quality and that pump savings are not pocketbook savings. And when the results "come out in the wash," it proves a pretty sad, streaked mess to hang on the line of experience.

Wadham's True Gasoline

— used consistently through every season — means that you have chosen to buy your miles at the highest advantage.

Trip by trip, you enjoy the direct comforts of easy starting and smooth, missless running. And with it all abides the deeper consciousness that your motor and power line are not being undermined by staggered, slow-burning explosions, that valves and cylinders are not being gritted by excess carbon and that kerosene dilution can never ravage your oil supply.

NEW JERSEY SURE FOR COOLIDGE BY MORE THAN 50,000

credits and a general restraint which may mean shutting down the plant. Feeling that way, he wants La Follette beaten and Coolidge elected.

What happened in the plant recently has been happening throughout the state. The worker thought the same story in industrial Trenton. It is quite common in manufacturing states on some occasions, but it did not happen to any extent in 1920 nor in 1916. This year the La Follette boom has done more to stimulate the conservatives and the manufacturers generally than any one thing. The tariff has been trotted out as bearing upon the wages of the workmen and many of them are convinced they would be adversely affected, if the tariff were unaltered.

Safe With Coolidge — Apart from the strength of the Coolidge-Dawes ticket in manufacturing circles, the banks have gone into the campaign more energetically than the campaign for La Follette has been raised. Davis is not talked of. There is no antagonism to him. It simply is reiterated that the safest way to vote is for Coolidge. Among professional men and others who think their pocketbooks may be affected by the throwing of the election into the house, the drift to Coolidge has been noticeable for several weeks.

But while there are affirmative reasons why many voters are going to vote the republican ticket nationally, there are negative reasons why many are not going to vote the democratic ticket. In Hudson county for instance, where the population is mostly of Irish descent, the immediate reaction after the failure of the Madison Square Garden convention to nominate Al Smith was to desert the democratic party. When Davis in his sought speech denounced the Klan by name he recovered lost ground.

When he came out later for the League of Nations he lost some that he had gained. Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, who bosses Hudson county, has rolled up his shirt sleeve and is really working hard for Davis. He will save him from the bad hearing he might have gotten, but even the resourceful Hague will not recover the votes that have been turned toward La Follette. The third party candidate will cut into the democratic vote more heavily than into the republican vote.

The Klan Issue

President Coolidge's attitude on the Klan—does it not influence him here, but those who feel resentful about it are more likely to vote for La Follette than Davis, though there will be some acquiescence from the republican ranks on this score.

For the democrats have not succeeded in showing a definite relationship between the Coolidge policy of silence and the Klan itself. The letter given out by C. H. Bascum Group, the president's secretary, saying the president was not a member of the Klan nor in sympathy with its objects, is being used wherever the Klan question appears vital in keeping republican votes.

Conservative State — Mostly the state is in the grip of conservatism—the doctrine of things as they are. The contest for United States senator is stirring up even more interest than the presidential race. Walter Edge, former governor and present possessor of the senatorial toga, won a bitter primary fight in which he took the "wet" side. There appears no doubt that democracy will win. The democrats nominated Mayor Donnelly of Trenton, who is warring "wet" compared to Edge. He denounces the Klan every hour in the day, while Senator Edge maintains a policy of studied silence.

Wisconsin Tobacco Market — Tobacco prices are dropping. The Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter Friday says: "The hoped for and expected revival of business has not reached the Wisconsin leaf market as yet. The week being very quiet and uneventful in trading. Some small deals, however, have been made. The price reports the sale of one crop of 1923 low grades during the week to 12 1/2 cents. Whitewater. The General Cigar company is reported to have purchased a grower's small packing of 1922 in the highest neighborhood, and a few purchases of 1923 bundle goods from first hands have been made."

made in the Deerfield section. The seed also reports a break demand for low grades, which encourages the belief that their entire holdings of these seeds will be marketed at no very distant date.

"The first frosts since those of the first of the month occurred during the week, and while somewhat more severe, the hatching tobacco is well advanced in the cure to suffer damage. A belated crop here and there may feel the effects of a hard frost, but the number of such crops is too limited to be reckoned with. The curing of the hatching crop is very satisfactory but a little more moisture would be quite beneficial."

What Are Janesville Boys Worth?

Do You Care About Our Boys?

One boy who goes wrong is a community liability of a most dangerous kind. One boy who goes right may become a citizen of such wide usefulness that his value to the community is tremendous. If a boy does not go right, he goes wrong. The Y. M. C. A. strives to make it as hard as possible for a boy to go wrong, and as easy as possible for a boy to go right. The Y. M. C. A. succeeds because it understands boys—that's its business. The Y. M. C. A. has a long record of results in boys who "came up" in the Association and are today occupying positions of usefulness and influence. The boys of Janesville are worth more than all her buildings, stocks, industries, paved streets, transportation systems and real estate. The boys of today are the Janesville of tomorrow. The patriotic citizen of today does his part in community up-building.

TRAINING WORK OF PARENTS, WARNING

Children's Education Not Up to State or Charity, Says Fitzpatrick.

[Special to the Gazette] Milwaukee.—The education of children is not a primary responsibility of the state, nor of any social agency, but of the parents, declared Dr. Edward A. Fitzpatrick, dean of the graduate school of Marquette university, in an address before the West Division High School Parent-Teachers' association, late Monday. Dr. Fitzpatrick formerly was secretary of the state board of education.

The Marquette dean asserted that the education of children is an inescapable personal responsibility of parents, and that schools exist to help parents do a better job, he added.

"The sad thing is that the existence of these agencies to supplement the home is often erected into excuses for parents for shifting their own responsibility," said Dr. Fitzpatrick. "We come to think too often of the school as the sole educational agency. We must conceive the entire life of the child as the educational means. It must be an organized life."

"One instrumentality must help the other; school must help playground; playground must help school; museum must supplement all, and the integrity of the individual must be secured by the home bringing into it many influences. So, you see what the responsibility is for the parent, and a parent-teacher association is, as I see it, one of the ways in which parents are to meet this large responsibility of integrating all the community factors in education."

LA FOLLETTE NEVER FOR PROHIBITION THE RECORD SHOWS

Senator La Follette is a candidate for the presidency. With his economic and political theories millions of good citizens agree. It is, of course, unfortunate when an official of government finds himself out of sympathy with his country in an international dispute. But that can be overlooked. Senator La Follette's friends admit that he would enforce the prohibition law. Get this straight: The prohibition law will never be enforced adequately except by officials who believe that it is a righteous law. In the senatorial debate on the 18th amendment, Senator La Follette said: (Congressional Record, August 1, 1917, page 6560).

"Mr. President, I have never believed in the principle of prohibition, therefore have never supported it."

"I should be untrue to my convictions in support of democracy if I did not vote to give the people the right to pass upon the pending amendment to the Constitution."

His dry vote, for the submission of the prohibition amendment, was preceded by a vote because he believes in the principle of referendum and not because he believes in the principle of prohibition.

Considering the files of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, we find that Senator La Follette's record of votes on prohibition is as follows:

Feb. 10, 1912: For personal use exemption amendment to interstate liquor bill.

Feb. 28, 1912: Not voting on passage of bill over veto. Not voting on Jones-Weeks anti-liquor code.

Jan. 18, 1913: AGAINST rule to consider or lay on table prohibition amendment.

Jan. 2, 1917: Pained FOR WET referendum bill.

Feb. 1, 1917: For anti-advertising and home dry amendment.

July 7, 1917: FOR wet prohibition in food bill.

Aug. 1, 1917: FOR national prohibition resolution, stating he so voted as a referendum to the people, but is opposed to prohibition.

AGAINST amendment to revenue act to apply home dry law to D. C.

Oct. 23, 1917: AGAINST passage of enforcement code over veto.

Aug. 8, 1921: AGAINST supplemental enforcement anti-beer bill.
